How Healthy Are Your Lungs?

LUNG CANCER SCREENING DAY Saturday, November 9, 2024

Are you eligible?

Early detection of lung cancer in high-risk patients is critical. You are considered high risk if you:

- Are you between the ages of 50 – 77 (Medicare covers up to 77 years of age, but private insurance may cover up to 80 years of age), and
- Have a smoking history of 20 pack-years (one pack per day for 20 years or two packs per day for 10 years), and
- Currently smoke or have quit smoking within the last 15 years

Other risk factors include:

- Radon or occupational carcinogen exposure (asbestos, arsenic, diesel fumes, etc.)
- Family history of lung cancer
- COPD or pulmonary fibrosis
- Personal history of cancer or lymphoma

Should you be screened?

Low-dose CT screenings provide earlier detection when lung cancer is most treatable. Discuss your medical history, the risks of screening and benefits with your provider.

Is this screening covered by insurance?

Your insurance may or may not cover the cost of a low-dose CT screening for detection of early-stage lung cancer. This screening is covered by Medicare for age 50-77 when ordered by your provider after a lung cancer screening counseling appointment (private insurance may cover up to 80 years of age).
